VOL. 50—No. 13

BAY ST. LOUIS TO BE HOST TO 100 SELECTEES THIS SATURDAY-SUNDAY

Community Center on Third Street Will Be Place Of Lodgment—Selectees Will Be Welcome and Local Public Asked to Make their Stay Pleasant—They Will Want to Come Back.

Bay St. Louis will be host once again to one hundred selective service men stationed at Camp Shelby near Hattiesburg on next Saturday and Sunday and its citizens are asked to make every effort to welcome and make the visit of the men a pleasant and enjoyable one.

The men will be housed in the Community Center on Third street where there is a great deal of space and facilities for entertaining them. The service men bring their coats and place them in the community house.

At a meeting of the Council of the Recreational Project held on Tuesday afternoon with representatives from the American Legion and city, namely Commissioner H. Grady Perkins and Messrs. Henry Capdepon and Leo G. Ford, it was decided to entertain the service men in the Community Center since at present it is about the largest available place.

Commissioner Perkins stated he believed the men enjoyed the visits to the Coast and the freedom from the routine of camp life more than any planned entertainment, and it was decided to have a dance on Saturday night at the Community House as the only planned entertainment to which the young people of Bay St. Louis are invited. Decorations of green and white will be carried out and music by a music box will be provided for the dancing. Especially welcome will be the girls and it is hoped that a nice crowd will be on hand to welcome the soldiers and provide them with dance partners for the evening.

In a number of Coast cities, the boys are being invited into homes for dinner and this is an especially nice manner in which to welcome these boys and men who have left comfortable homes and positions in other sections of the country just as our boys and men have left their homes here to become strangers in camps far removed from their home towns.

The proprietors of the restaurants in Bay St. Louis are making a special rate for a dinner for the service men on Sunday as their bit towards entertaining the soldiers, and as many are returning here after previous visits, they will visit among friends.

TO OPEN SOUVENIR GIFT SHOP

Plans Announced For Such Place of Business in Ramsey Building Soon.

With characteristic enterprise, Dr. B. L. Ramsey announces the remaining vacant store space in the Ramsey Bldg., on the beach front, will shortly open a full-fledged gift shop—one that will in time carry a wide and varied line of gifts of all kinds, extending to the local trade and to the tourist and general visitor.

Beginning small, the shop in time will spread and carry various lines of goods. A feature will be the fancy work department. Here ladies who have turned out fine pieces of fancy work or an Afghan, lace bed spread, etc., may place this class of goods there and will be sold for the owners on commission.

This will afford a market to many a local worker who is capable of doing fancy work and other dainty work and at the present time find little or no market in which to sell.

Visitors oft times like to go back home with souvenirs, small and unusual gifts, trinkets and the like and the new shop will make this possible in future. A line of something different, appealing to the taste of the buyer.

This shop will be in charge of Mrs. W. A. Sigerson, whose cordial personality and ability will tend to draw trade. Mrs. Sigerson is experienced and the public is assured of pleasant reception and satisfaction.

Date of opening has not yet been definitely decided, but the gift and fancy shop will be open in ample time for the summer trade. It will be an excellent gift and fancy work place.

SCHOOL LUNCH PROJECT

Report Shows Both Activity And Success—Takes Care of Many.

The W. P. A. school lunch project for the county is one of the outstanding benefits for this county serving school children hot lunches daily. Free to those not able to pay and for those who may be able to contribute a few cents per meal.

This is a splendid work and Miss Caro Weston, county nutrition worker, under auspices of the project, and her associates are deserving of much credit for their work. For the manner in which they handle it and for the results, always getting the most results for the least money.

The Sea Coast Echo has always taken an interest in this work and we are pleased to be able to present a report on the present season's work. This report carries all the details of the work accomplished and tells the story with facts and figures. Our readers interested in the county and its welfare will read of this work with more than ordinary satisfaction. The report we have on the subject follows:

The W. P. A. School Lunch Garden and Canning Project of Hancock County, served 16,977 lunches during the period of February 12th, through March 11th, averaging 922 lunches a day.

In Bay St. Louis the four lunch rooms, Bay High, St. Margaret's, Taylor and Valena C. Jones, served 4738 lunches.

Other W. P. A. lunch rooms are Catatoula Consolidated, Catatoula Colored, Dedeaux, Edwardsville, Flat Top, Gulfview, Jordan River Colored, Kiln Consolidated and Sellers Consolidated.

Kiln Consolidated served the greatest number of children of any lunch room, 2700 lunches, average of 150 lunches a day.

The value of these lunches are estimated about $1020.02 for the month amounting to $1509.95.

Four educational programs have been held during this period. These meetings are held on Saturday and workers assigned to the units attended the ones nearest to them.

We are now interested in our gardens. Plans are being made for the spring and summer canning season, and vegetables to be canned are being planted or will soon be planted in these gardens. The canned produce will be used in the W. P. A. lunch rooms next school term.

Miss Olive Kline is state director of this project, Mrs. Albia C. Gray is district supervisor, Miss Caro L. Weston is county project supervisor and she is assisted by Miss Vivian Egloff, senior timekeeper.

This project is sponsored by the State Board of Health and co-sponsored by local organizations and individuals.

The county office is located in back of the R. E. A. Building on Cue st.

3 MOVIE THEATERS FOR BAY ST. LOUIS THIS SUMMER SEASON

The Ortte Theater and Meyers Enterprise in Course Of Construction.

Ed. P. Ortte reports work on rebuilding of the former Bay-Waveland Yacht Club structure is progressing satisfactorily and while it was expected to formally open for Easter Sunday, that date is yet tentative since there is so much to be done for the convenience and general comfort of patrons. However, Mr. Ortte says, if it cannot open for Easter we will open shortly thereafter. It is planned to get the theater in readiness and operating as early as possible.

The second movie house in progress of rebuilding by the Meyers interests, opposite L. & N. depot, is also progressing satisfactorily after a lull awaiting the arrival of material. This building is entirely new, taking the place of a former store structure and will be constructed along the most modern lines. The date of opening has not as yet been determined, however, it will be ready for business as soon as the building is finished.

This will give Bay St. Louis three movie theaters and there should be plenty of entertainment for the home folks and the crowds that will visit the Bay-Waveland area during the gay summer months. There will be a variety of pictures and there should be something every night to suit every taste.

BEACH LANDMARK SOLD

Business Place of the Late Miss Josie E. Welch Sold To Mrs. W. J. Gex, Sr.

The beach building, mercantile and residence combined, built by the late Miss Josie E. Welch and for more than a generation occupied and conducted by her as a newsstand and gift shop of the better class, the place known as "Ye Ole Curiosity Shoppe," was sold during the week by her niece, Mrs. Ethel Berthelot Allen, of Meridian, Miss., to Mrs. Amanda Gex, widow of Walter J. Gex, Sr., for a cash consideration of $1500, according to a deed of transfer at the courthouse.

Mrs. Gex made the purchase in order the building may be removed from the beach side of Front street and thus clear the view of the gulf waters from her own home across the street. Work of demolition has started, Dr. B. L. Ramsey purchasing the interior and movable store fixtures.

Mrs. Allen, who had resided with her aunt, inherited the property and living away found it to her advantage to sell it, which had well stood the ravages of time.

Miss Welch had constructed the building some thirty or thirty-five years ago, succeeding her sister, the late Mrs. Annie E. Avery, newspaper and magazine writer who prior to Miss Welch's time had conducted the business for many years, until Mrs. Avery's sudden death in the store one afternoon.

Miss Welch's place was a rendezvous for the literati, it may well be said. In her earlier years Miss Welch had contributed poems to the Old Democrat and to the Times, of New Orleans, and even after the two newspapers were consolidated and known as the Times-Democrat.

Mrs. Avery was the resident correspondent for the Times-Democrat, while the late Richard Merdian, city auditor and clerk, was news representative to the Times-Democrat. Mrs. Avery was essentially a news writer and the Playmate in those days carried news from Bay St. Louis practically daily. Her Sunday society notes occupied from a column to two, the latter in the summer season, and were read far and wide.

Mrs. Avery sprung into national prominence as a newspaper writer when Fitzsimmons trained her (Nicholson avenue) for his famous bout. A versatile writer, she entered the profession of writing sports and knew the lingo of the ring to perfection as writer. Her daily reports of the training was sent by wire to newspapers in New York, Chicago, Baltimore, Cincinnati, and several of the larger cities, including in the south such newspapers as the Memphis Commercial Appeal and the Galveston News. Her work was outstanding and proved remunerative.

Thousands of visitors over the country, many famous people, visiting here, would gravitate to Miss Welch's place of business, and being a woman of learning, well versed in the art of engaging personality, she made thousands of friends in this wise and Bay St. Louis, and the coast had no better booster than Miss Welch. Her correspondence list was enormous. She corresponded regularly with many of the brightest minds of the country, people in high position, and other personages of note corresponded with her regularly. A great reader she found time to write her own letters, always in long hand.

Thus the sale and demolition of

STUDENTS COMPLETE COURSE IN RED CROSS FIRST AID CLASSES

Earl Ramond, Instructor, Drills Students in Time Of Accidents.

Stopping the loss of blood, preventing infection, and treating shock following accidents are only a few of the items taught in the Red Cross first aid class now being sponsored by the Hancock County American Red Cross, it was pointed out yesterday by Mr. G. H. Rea, chapter chairman.

"First aid service of the Red Cross teaches prompt and correct action when limbs are broken or when other accidents occur," Mr. Rea said. "The use of antiseptics and sterile dressings, their handling, and the proper way of cleaning greasy or oily wounds are among the subjects now being taught in the class in progress."

Mr. Earl Ramond, the instructor, is drilling the students in the handling of accidents that may take place in their homes or on the streets, and in this way we are attempting to eliminate the number of deaths and disabilities resulting from the large number of accidents taking place each year.

These classes, the chairman pointed out, are regularly given by the local chapter of the Red Cross, and arrangements for taking the courses may be made by calling at the chapter offices.

Smith, Mrs. Sara Power, Miss May Edwards, Mrs. Leo Seal, Mrs. Harold Weston, Mrs. George R. Rea, and Mrs. Dennis F. Burge.

Volunteer Workers Called For Red Cross Sewing Room Weekly

A number of ladies gather together weekly at the home of Mrs. G. Y. Blaize and sew for the Hancock Chapter of American Red Cross. As there is quite a bit of sewing, knitting and crocheting still to be done in order to complete the Chapter's quota by the specified time and volunteers who are willing to take work home and complete it and return are urgently being sought. Any one desiring any of this work will please communicate with Mrs. Dennis F. Burge at her office in the courthouse.

The building writes this, save all but a fond memory of those fortunate to have known the two sisters, Mrs. Annie Avery and Miss Josie Welch. Their nieces, Mrs. Hattie Avery Berthelot and Mrs. Blanche Avery Ehrman, both died years prior to Miss Welch's passing.

K. C. COUNCIL MEMBERS ATTEND INITIATION AT BILOXI LAST SUNDAY

Fifty-Three Candidates From Over Coast Section Received Into Council—Elaborate Ceremonies Precede Ceremony of Conferring Three Degrees.

FESTIVAL PLANNED BY BANDS

Combining Best Talent Of Three Bands to Form One Coast Aggregation

The public of Bay St. Louis and vicinity will be treated to something entirely new and rather unique to music on April 21. Bro. Romuald, the St. Stanislaus Band director, thought that the idea of three bands combined to form one grand, or mass band, would create a new and increased interest in music. Mr. W. C. Morgan, director of the Bay High School Band, and Mr. Douglas Appleby, director of the Long Beach Band, were approached by Brother Romuald and plans were soon under way toward the forming of the first Band Festival ever to be held on the Coast.

The finest and most capable musicians from each band will be chosen by their respective directors to represent their school in this mass band. Since the band thus formed will be about sixty-five pieces, the most suitable place for the concert will be the Bay High auditorium.

The main attraction will be this mass band, but besides this there will be selections played by the individual bands, at least one ensemble, and also musical talent from our city.

This selected band will play the required State Band Contest piece, "The Regal Overture" and a popular march. After this, each school band will play two other selections, and following which the guest artists will perform.

At first it was hoped that it would be possible to present something of this sort to the public without charging any admission, but this was found to be impossible because of the high expenses of each school. The charge for admission, however, will be a nominal one, and all are cordially invited to attend the first attempt of three local bands playing together in a sixty-five piece band.

NEEDED: GOOD SAMARITANS.

THE people of Bay St. Louis have different religious beliefs and worship according to their consciences without interference from authorities.

Freedom of religious worship is one of the rights guaranteed by our form of government. Those who enjoy the blessing that it affords should be scrupulous in respecting the beliefs of those with whom they do not agree. There is no other way to uphold and maintain religious freedom.

Religion in the United States, however, suffers no threat of dictatorship. Its worst enemy, so far as we can see, is in the future of individuals to put into practice the principles of the religion that they possess. It is idle to prate about religious convictions that are not expressed in personality as it mingles with human beings in daily activities.

Frankly, the editor of this newspaper never worries about the religion that people prefer. We trust that nobody worries about our own beliefs. The common task that confronts all men and women of every religious persuasion, is to make their personal contribution to life in a way to serve other people.

Instead of disputing about non-essentials we might follow the example of a Great Teacher who went about doing good. Life presents many pitfalls into which human beings plunge and it is up to us to avoid them as best we can. When unfortunately some brother or sister stumbles into a snare, there is an opportunity for others to be helpful, if they are so minded.

The good Samaritan will find much to do.

NO TIME TO TALK OF PEACE.

THE talk about a negotiated peace is foolish for the simple reason that there is no possibility of negotiation until the Nazis forego their confident dream of world supremacy.

Until the time arrives that the German people are satisfied that their effort to loot the world is vain, efforts to secure any settlement are futile.

Just now, the latest word from Germany is that the people there are conscious of the hate that the rest of the world has for Nazis, that they fear the results of losing the war and being penalized and that, as a result, they are practically united behind the war effort.

This unity will continue to prevail as long as the Nazis can make the people of Germany believe that victory is "just around the corner" and that there are spoils galore for the Germans if victory is attained.

The time to talk negotiated peace will arrive when Hitler's army has been severely defeated and the Nazi pretense of superiority has been shattered upon the battlefield. It is a bloody requirement but it is a requirement.

At the psychological moment the British may be able to weaken the German morale by disclosing their intention to be generous in making peace but that time has not yet arrived.

FRENCH SUFFERED HEAVY LOSSES.

FRENCH losses in the blitzkrieg, which resulted in complete defeat last year were extremely heavy, according to a book by Captain Jean Labusquiere, whose position is generally taken as sufficiently important as to make the statistics authoritative.

In May and June, of last year, he says, French losses were equal to those of the first three months of war in 1914. Eighty thousand graves of French soldiers killed in the war have been located in France and twenty thousand soldiers are missing. One hundred twenty thousand wounded have been listed. These are the casualties suffered in only forty-five days of fighting.

The French captain reviews the history of France's participation in the war, showing the losses sustained because of inferior equipment. Officers paid even more severely than in other wars. Thirty to thirty-five per cent of the casualties were officers. Nine French generals were killed and 130 of 234 generals were captured. Forty thousand officers are missing, killed or prisoners. Of the active Army officers, he says, sixty-five per cent fell on the field or were captured.

The Board of Supervisors proceedings makes for interesting reading. The Supervisors publish their minutes regularly.

The glories of the Mississippi Gulf Coast as an ideal place to live prevail the year 'round. There are no seasons. It is ever the place to live.

Governor Paul B. Johnson has designated April 7th as "Army Day" in Mississippi, and the week of March 31 through April 6th as "Americanism Week." All citizens are urged to appropriately observe the same.

It is generally predicted it will be a "big" summer for the Coast this year. More people are traveling and with prosperity and shorter time to work and the country more vacation-conscious this section ought to get a lion's share of the trade.

Internal revenue collector Eugene Fly seems highly pleased with collections in his department from March 1 to March 13, the last date for filing returns. Federal income collections for that period totaled $1,519,412, as compared with $1,337,518 for the same period in 1940.

NEWSPAPER CELEBRATES ITS SIXTIETH ANNIVERSARY.

THE Pass Christian Coast Beacon last week celebrated its sixtieth anniversary with a special edition, carrying special articles of historic value. The paper has had a long and successful career. As official journal of Harrison county and published by men of outstanding ability and of representative standing, from time to time, it has had an interesting career.

Capt. P. K. Meyers, famed editor of the Pascagoula Democrat-Star a veteran of the civil war, and a man of high standards, owned it principally until it was finally sold to the E. J. Adam family. (Father of Lt. Gov. Bidwell Adam) and from then to the present owners.

The Beacon flourished in the days when all roads led to Pass Christian. The back road, way from Biloxi to Pass Christian was called the Pass Christian Road, so was Howard avenue of Biloxi thus named, and many of the older residents refer to it by the same name.

Pass Christian was the center where all wool was sold by the sheep owner and bought by buyers that gathered there at certain times for the purpose. Thus, since Harrison county was a sheep growing country, all roads led to Pass Christian. It was the central point of the industry of that time.

The Rhodes store, now Bourdin tinsmith shop, was the big store of the Coast. It was here the sheep owners sold their wool to the highest bidders and bought their provisions, clothing, etc.

The Beacon has all thru the years seen the many transitions of time. And its files carry a wealth of information and historical data.

Later years an attempt was made to start another paper, The Tarpon, but the older paper long established was well rooted in the hearts and minds of the people, and held its position and prestige without effort. Acquiring the plant of The Tarpon, after it could not be made a "go," the Beacon owners hyphenated the two names, thus the Beacon-Tarpon. But the majority of the people know the publication better simply as The Beacon, as they had always known and called it.

May it see many more years under its present hard-working management.

MATCHING THE DICTATORS.

THERE may be those who fall for the "superman" stuff about Hitler and his sidekick, Mussolini, but the dictators have met more than their matches in democracy's present leaders, Churchill and Roosevelt.

Great Britain and the United States are fortunate in their executive officials who have demonstrated remarkable ability in leading free peoples to face facts courageously.

Of course, the strength of both men is to be found in the confidence reposed in them by the vast majority of their fellow-countrymen. Because of the unbounded support of their peoples these two democratic leaders bid fair to stem the tide of barbarism that menaces the civilized world.

War correspondents have testified to the effect of Mr. Churchill's brave words, when head by British soldiers and sailors at grips with their empire's foes. Despite difficulties and disasters the British fighting men feel that they have a leader, at last, worthy of the great predecessors who created and enlarged their commonwealth of nations.

The power of the clear-cut declarations of President Roosevelt, now backed by the mandate of Congress, denouncing the aggressors and their attempt to plunder the world, and pledging the resources of this great industrial nation to uphold the cause of freedom, will become more potent as the effect of American policy is seen on the battlefields.

FEDERAL INCOME TAXES SOAR.

MISSISSIPPI is collecting more revenues today than even in the history of the State. Every source of taxation shows a greater increase and from this one cannot but deduce the fact the State is richer as a result and we should in time enjoy some relief.

Our local taxes are made to meet the overhead which, by the way, is reduced to a minimum. It must be remembered by all fair-thinking people, and good business people as well, that a city, county or any public locality must collect sufficiently to take care of actual overhead.

A good business man knows exactly how much it costs every morning to open the front door of his place of business; that the actual overhead is and how much correspondingly he must collect to meet the prescribed obligation. So it is with municipalities and counties.

To get back to the State of Mississippi and its federal income tax collection it is interesting and satisfying to know collections from January 1 to March 20 amounted to almost $1,000,000 more than collections for the same period in 1940, a compilation by the internal revenue department showed Thursday.

Collector Eugene Fly said the number filing returns would be completed Saturday. He expressed belief that the number making returns would be almost 100 per cent greater than 1940. A total of $2,398,711.03 had been collected through Thursday as compared with $1,401,287.05 for 1940, and $1,173,574.77 for the same period in 1939.

PATIENCE NOT UNLIMITED.

NEWS reports tell of a threatened strike by highly paid workers in a big army cantonment, because the contractor in the case has employed some non-union workers—free American citizens who have a right to work.

If the "dollar-a-day" young men have been conscripted into the army, threatened to walk out because they didn't agree with the ideas of a new bunch of conscripts coming into camp, the crackdown would be swift and harsh.

When 47 new families numbering 135 persons moved to Saginaw, Michigan, in a single month recently, they were informed about municipal services and how the tax dollar was spent, by means of a full-page advertisement in a local newspaper. The advertisement was paid for by the local business institutions.

Hollywood Echoes.

CHARLIE Chaplin is planning another picture, but don't hold your breath until you see it. It usually takes from two to three years from the time the "spirit moves" until the picture is completed.

Claudette Colbert has so many pictures planned for her by Paramount that she'll be a doddering gray-haired old lady before she can make them all. "Palace of a Thousand" and "Lies" was recently bought for her.

So much ballyhoo attended the recent dancing by George Raft and Betty Grable at Ciro's that it's a toss-up whether their studio (Warner Bros. and Twentieth Century-Fox, respectively) won't get together and team them as a dancing partnership. Raft, who is anxious to get away from his typing as a gangster and prisoner, may have planned it that way.

Todd Karns, the 19-year-old physically attractive son of the comedian, Roscoe Karns, has been given a personal contract by Director Leo McCarey, who says he will work in "Andy Hardy's Private Secretary."

Alice Marble, the tennis champion, has been offered the lead in a series of Westerns. She, however, is considering a tennis tour of South America.

Attention from other studios often causes home studios of actors and actresses to sit up and take notice. Such is the case with Rita Hayworth who is getting much more attention from her home studio—Columbia—because of the interest in her of other companies. One might also mention that delightful comedienne, Judy Canova, who was dropped by Paramount after two pictures, only to be given a five-year contract, after her work for Republic in "Seabrain" was "Sis Hopkins" attracted so much favorable notice.

Tom Harmon, outstanding Michigan halfback, has signed a contract to appear in the title role in Columbia's "Harmon of Michigan."

Bob Hope, who is said to be the one comic in Hollywood who doesn't have to keep a gag-writer at his elbow all the time, will star in Paramount's screen version of "Louisiana Purchase," in the role of Jim Taylor, which was taken on the stage by William Gaxton. The film, to be made in Technicolor, is scheduled to go before the cameras on July 7.

W. Somerset Maugham, English novelist and playwright, recently signed a contract with David O. Selznick to write a photoplay for the Selznick Producing Company. Maugham, who previously rejected all offers to write directly for the screen, refused to disclose the terms of the present deal.

Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontaine may be brought to the screen if the efforts of Metro succeed to induce them to appear in a film version of "There Shall Be No Night," Robert Sherwood, author of the play, will do the screen adaptation if the deal is consummated.

Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy and Fibber McGee and Molly, together with Lucille Ball and her husband, Desi Arnaz, may be teamed by RKO in an as yet untitled drama of the radio.

NEW DEFENSE PROJECT

A NOTHER defense project has been located in the Sixth District, an Air Corps mechanical training school. This school will be the second largest of its kind in the country. Approximately 12,000 men will be given ground training as mechanics for the Air Corps, and about 250 officers will be stationed there. The initial expenditure will be approximately six million dollars. The site of the school is on Back Bay near Biloxi, adjoining the Veterans Home there.

Our district is fortunate in having two army projects located in it. Camp Shelby, the largest Army training center in the country, is in the northern part of the District, and the mechanical training school in the southern part. There will be 68,000 troops stationed at Camp Shelby by summer, which, with the 12,000 to be stationed at Biloxi, will amount to a total of 80,000 soldiers in our section.

Camp Shelby First Training Center Completed

The War Department has announced the completion of Camp Shelby in record time and at less than estimated cost. The camp is the first of forty-six training centers to be completed under the defense program.

The camp covers an area of six miles, and contains 15,000 structures, including 13,000 floored tent frames, 414 mess halls, 80 warehouses, a 2,000-bed hospital, 56 administration buildings, a 1,000,000 laundry, 34 post exchanges, 85 miles of water mains, 60 miles of sewer pipes, and 55 miles of hardsurfaced roads.

THE GRAND CANYON.

Although the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, in northern Arizona, was probably the first of America's scenic wonders to be viewed by the white men, it was not created a national park until 1909. A view of the canyon from the south rim is pictured on the U. S. 2-cent red stamp, above of the National Parks series.

Grand Canyon National Park has an area of 958 square miles, enclosing 66 miles of Grand Canyon. The river is a mile below the rims. Trails wind down to the canyon floor; motor roads skirt the edges, cross on a suspension bridge.

The canyon was millions of years old when Don Lopez de Cardenas, a member of Coronado's expedition, discovered it in 1540. American trappers, headed by James O. Pattie, visited the region in 1826. Major John Wesley Powell headed an expedition that made the first voyage down the river in 1899.

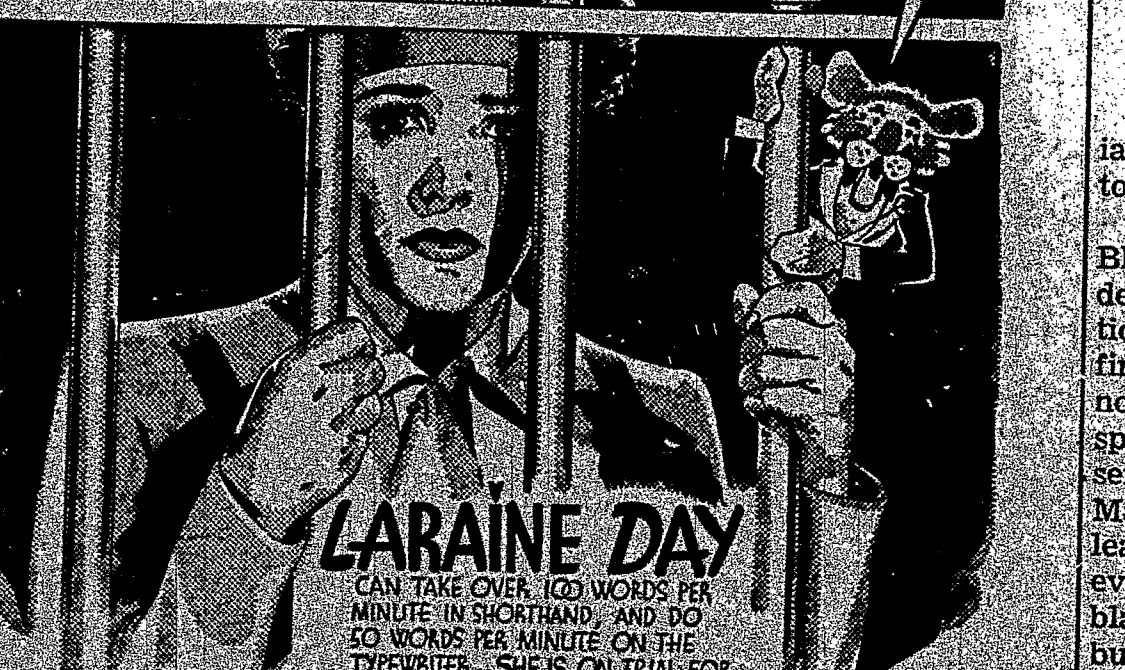

Today, the canyon is one of the country's greatest tourist attractions. Easily accessible, it draws visitors at all seasons of the year. Grand Canyon is never the same. It changes from day to day as wind, rain and water continue the erosion begun thousands of centuries ago.

MISSISSIPPIANS PAY UNCLE SAM

Mississippians paid Uncle Sam more than $2,300,000 in income taxes this year, an increase of about 100 per cent. The increase is due to the larger number paying the tax.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—"IT'S TRUE!" Tom Conway has reason to be proud of his personality, which was termed "dogged obstinacy" in his biography, says Wiley Padan. Here's why: The actor's mother and father, living in England, long-disregarded their son's persistent urging that they come to the United States. The more they demurred, the more he insisted. At last a few weeks ago, he sailed for the States, and when he arrived, he found his mother and father had died. And when the family was found, they were in a state of shock. And when the family was found, they were in a state of shock. And when the family was found, they were in a state of shock.

Library Notes.

The library has six new books for children, gifts from the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. Come in, children, and let's travel through the foreign countries. "Pamuk, Eskimo Sled Dog" (by Mahetanz) will be glad to be your guide through Alaska; in South America "Feathers, an Argentine Rhea" (by Desmond) will be your guide; then if you want to go to Austria why not ask "Fridl, a Mountain Boy" (by Washbourne) to take you on the tour. Fridl has such delightful experiences; often would you like to go to Finland? Let's go there with the twins, "Auno and Tauno" (by Henry); come take a stroll through "Silk and Satin Lane" (by Wood and Weiser) and have the little tom-boy of China tell about the girls in her country; on to Dook East India we go and find out just what "Jo-Yo's Idea" (by Eliot) was and why his bull won the race.

The adults have a treat in store too because from the same source we have Habro's "I Saw It Happen in Norway" a report of an eye witness of the German invasion of Norway. The author was the president of the Storting and ranked second to the king in prestige and power; Reynold's "The Wounded Don't Cry" the account given by a newspaper man of the effect of war in Europe, particularly England. Parish's "The Defeat of Chaos"—"Some day the war will be over and victors and vanquished alike will have to face a world in ruins and start building on new lines." An excellent book for a study group. Agar's (and others) "The City of Men" a book written by several authors who have combined to set forth in this book the claims which may be justly made on this chaotic world; Peck's "Roundabout South America" introduces us to seven of the twenty Latin American republics—our good neighbors to the south.

NOTES FOR THE HOME MAKER.

Spray Calendar for Roses. Scale Insects: Spray before foliage with oil emulsion 1 part of oil to 20 parts water.

Powdery Mildew: Black Spot and Blossom Blight: Spray with Bordeaux mixture according to directions on package or dust with superfine dusting sulphur. The dust will not discolor foliage as will the spray. Apply dust when dew is present, using dust gun or flour sack. Make first application as soon as leaves begin to appear and follow every ten days or two weeks. When black spot is severe pick-off and burn infected leaves.

Planting. There are more than fifty kinds of vegetables that may be easily and cheaply grown in every county in Mississippi so far easy and economical in planning plant a garden. Poor seeds are expensive even as a gift. Gardeners cannot afford to waste soil, fertilizers and labor on poor stands.

Transplanting. Such work should be done on cloudy days or late in afternoon. Wet soil to depth of roots before taking up plants. Lift plants with as much soil adhering to the roots as possible. Do not allow roots of plants to become dry while transplanting. Set plants a little deeper in the soil than they stood in seed bed. Press the soil firmly about the roots.

If dry, pour water in a depression made around each plant.

Pat Harrison Sends Famous Pen to State.

The Mississippi Department of Archives and History has one of the six pens which President Roosevelt signed the Lend-Lease Bill last Tuesday, March 11.

The pen was a gift to the Department from Senator Pat Harrison, who has on other occasions sent various articles of interest to the department.

The letter accompanying the pen said:

"Dear Dr. McCain: President Roosevelt gave me one of the pens he used in signing H. R. 1776, An Act Further to promote the defense of the United States and for other purposes. I thought it might be an interesting addition to the Mississippi Department of Archives and History, and have taken pleasure in sending it to you under separate cover. With best wishes, I am Sincerely yours, Pat Harrison."

The doctor rushed out of his study. "Get my bag at once!" he shouted. "Why, Dad?" asked his daughter "what's the matter?" "Some fellow just phoned he can't live without me!" gasped the doctor, reaching for his hat. His daughter breathed a sigh of relief. "Just a moment," she said quietly, "that call was for me."

THE PHILADELPHIA STORY COMING A. & G. WEEKEND ATTRACTION

With Cary Grant, Katherine Hepburn, James Stewart
In Brilliant Cast.

More than 200 chuckles, laughs and howls are guaranteed in "The Philadelphia Story," picturization of Philip Barry's New York comedy stage hit, which stars Cary Grant, Katherine Hepburn and James Stewart, and open on Sunday at the A. & G. Theater for an engagement of two days.

The laughs were checked and double-checked, and thoroughly publicized during the fifty-two solid weeks in which Miss Hepburn played to capacity audiences on Broadway. A sound track was made of an actual performance at the Shubert Theater and used as a guide in bringing Barry's sparkling comedy to the screen without the loss of a single chuckle.

A new, more vital and dynamic Hepburn is to be seen in the picture—she plays a young woman of high society, who has no tolerance for human weakness. Having divorced her debaucher first husband, Cary Grant, because he didn't come up to her idea of perfection, she is about to be married a second time. Her choice is a stalwart man of the people, John Howard. Complications arise when Grant, realizing that his ex-wife is making a mistake, turns up for the wedding. He brings with him a reporter, from a keyhole society magazine, Spy, and then the fun begins. The reporter is played by James Stewart, who also falls for Miss Hepburn. Which one gets the girl? That is the part of the whirlwind comedy plot which reaches a hilarious climax when Miss Hepburn's foot slips, and how!

This led to broadcasting sports events over the radio and ultimately back to acting when a Warner Brothers representative heard him and was impressed by his fine voice and dramatic appeal, he asked him to take a screen test. A contract was signed soon afterwards.

In "The Bad Man" he appears with Wallace Beery, Lionel Barrymore and Laraine Day in the famous stage hit which catapulted Holbrook Blinn into success.

Playing heroes on the screen isn't a new experience to Ronald Reagan, whose latest picture is "The Bad Man," because in real life he has saved the lives of seventy-seven persons. He adds that this was not particularly heroic, however, since it was all in line of duty.

While I was working my way through Eureka College in Illinois, the young six-foot actor explained, "I spent several summers as life-guard, so I couldn't very well escape saving a few lives."

Began as Newspaperman. Born in Tampico, Illinois, he started on his dramatic career in college theatricals in such plays as "Captain Applejack," "Journey's End" and others. While it was his ambition to become a professional actor as soon as he graduated, he found himself a newspaperman instead, doing the sports column for the local sheet.

FORD AND DEFENSE ACTIVITIES ARE MANY AND INDICATE SPIRIT

OF LOYALTY AND RESULTS—National Defense—Speed—Mass Production.

For months this has been the urgent appeal to the American people by the President and his Secretaries of State, Navy, and War.

The Ford Motor Company has believed in the sincerity of this appeal and has responded promptly to National Defense as the Nation's Number One Job.

This is what they are doing now. Working day and night to complete in record time a $21,000,000 airplane engine factory.

Making all possible speed to complete a new magnesium alloy foundry in which light weight castings for airplane engines already are being produced.

Building Military vehicles of several kinds including the new four-wheel-drive Reconnaissance cars which already are rolling off Ford assembly lines. Other types are Army staff cars, bomb service trucks, chassis for mobile field kitchens, British war relief.

Negotiating and plans now under way for production of bombing plane assemblies.

Designing a 1,500-horsepower airplane engine of original design for volume production.

Additional Defense Program activities include:

An aircraft Apprentices School to train skilled workers in this essential field. The school has 200 students now and is rapidly being expanded ten-fold.

Classes for women who are members of the Red Cross Motor Corps in motor maintenance.

A Navy Service School which Henry Ford through the Ford Motor Company built and equipped—at no expense to the government—to aid the United States Navy in training recruits in the highly technical skills required by the modern fleet. The first barracks administration building, mess hall and recreation rooms were erected by the Company at the Rouge Plant in Dearborn in the record time of 40 days. The school will graduate 4,500 trained men a year.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEET HELD BY C. S. S. U. AT S. J. A. MEMORIAL HALL

Sociality Convention Highly Discussed

St. Joseph Memorial Hall, Bay St. Louis, was the site for the March meeting of the Coast Student Sociality Union. This assembly was one of the liveliest and interesting ever seen.

As the meetings of the past, before the meetings officially began an amusing entertainment was presented by the Rev. Father Courtney. Following this the prefect, James Bryan, asked for a discussion of the Sociality convention which this Union is to sponsor. At the end of a fiery discussion the following points were agreed upon: That the New Orleans Socialists would be invited to the convention. A registration fee of 25 cents would be charged which would be donated to the Convent in Gulfport which suffered a catastrophe recently. That Rev. Father Courtney would be invited to attend and act as chairman. The convention would be held at Bay St. Louis.

The next argument, which was enthusiastically backed, was that of another Union dance. The dance is to be held after the Easter holidays at Biloxi. The benefits of this dance would also be donated to the Gulfport convent.

Jimmie Stephens then presented a speech on the pamphlet, "What to do on a Date." This was also followed by a very discussion. Many suggestions were given by different socialists and at the end of the argument a clear knowledge on "What to do on a Date" was to be had.

The April setting of the Union will again be held here at Bay St. Louis with S. Stanislaus acting as host.

Brother Alexis Attends Educational Meetings in Jackson, Mississippi

Bro. Alexis, vice president of St. Stanislaus attended convention of Mississippi Education Assn., which met in Jackson, Miss., March 13-14. At the same time he attended the organization meeting of the Mississippi Association of Secondary School Principals which was held in the Hotel Heidelberg, Friday afternoon, March 21.

The convention was very interesting according to Brother Alexis and was very well attended as was evidenced by the difficulty of securing rooms in the various hotels. Among the interesting events of the three-day meeting was the inspiring talk of Dr. Willis A. Sutton, Superintendent of Schools of Atlanta, Georgia. Dr. Sutton, a compelling speaker, talked on "The World Revolution: Its Implications for Education."

—Revenue agents are giving Hancock county a good deal of unenviable reputation by reporting the number of illicit distilleries discovered in Hancock county, and of arrests made. However, there is more detail of how many thousands of gallons of mash found than there are the names of owners and arrests. The officers of the law are certainly performing their duties, but it is wide publicity before trial in courts looks like a lot of cheap publicity and boosting their job. Hancock county's fair name is thus besmirched in the eyes of outsiders.

—While driving on Second street at Pass Christian Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. A. G. Favre, accompanied by a lady friend, the car struck a deep surface hole with the result a tire broke and a blowout followed. The car had a narrow escape from turning over. The ladies were uninjured, save for the shock on the instant. This occurred at a remote spot, "two miles from nowhere," it was stated. But Mrs. Favre, ever resourceful and not to be daunted, soon had procured help and the "spare" was righted in place while the old tire was destined to the things that were. Mrs. Favre says keep off the Pass Christian back road.

ALONG BAY ST. LOUIS GARDEN PATHS

A trip to New Orleans is more than worth while now that the azaleas are in bloom. In every direction as far as the eye can see these beautiful shrubs in many hues, greet the beholder. Singly or en masse each planting seems more vivid and appealing than the last as one drives along the main thoroughfares and by ways. New Orleans, as a city, has much to be proud of in this vast floral trail.

Many beautiful sweet peas, blooming profusely, may also be seen along the fences in front and side gardens. This always popular flower has been most prolific in the Bay this spring, also.

That showy border plant, the Thrift is in full bloom at present. Mrs. Perry on Citizen street has the beds of her always neat garden bordered with the pink blooms. Mr. and Mrs. Cagle's front garden has edgings of this same lovely plant.

There is a new Martin house in the Goldman's wooded garden. The calendars continue their golden bloom. Some very pretty ones are blooming along the path of the Breach garden on North Beach.

St. Stanislaus College has a very trim clipped hedge of yellow jasmine along the front of the main building. And the roses are also blooming quite well.

Mrs. Charles G. Moreau's famed garden of giant nandina domestica continues, even though the season is late, to carry great and numerous clusters of the red berries, admired by all passers-by. Her bushes of Sarah Frost camellias blossomed forth hundreds of gorgeous-sized blossoms while the many buds atop of bush were killed by the acute cold in November. The blooms came from below the bush top.

The city trucks and workers are still busy cleaning the streets. Altogether things are acquiring a trim, well kept appearance. Let us keep up the good work.

Mistress: "This food tastes terrible. Did you salt it?"
New Cook: "Yes'm, but I never used that brand before. It was called Epsom Salts."

Employers who practice an attitude of constant displeasure towards their employer in retaliation for petty and minor imaginary grievances injure no one else but self and lose chances of favor. And finally place their jobs in perilous position. Disrespectful and discourteousness has never paid dividends. But on the contrary, has in time brought forth severe penalties, even though they be concealed. One reaps as they sow.

James Stewart, whose salary as a movie actor was $13,000 a month, has become Private Stewart at a salary of $21 per month. Stewart has a hard time getting into the army. Employers who practice an attitude of constant displeasure towards their employer in retaliation for petty and minor imaginary grievances injure no one else but self and lose chances of favor. And finally place their jobs in perilous position. Disrespectful and discourteousness has never paid dividends. But on the contrary, has in time brought forth severe penalties, even though they be concealed. One reaps as they sow.

Say it with brakes and save on the flowers.
